

DOCAM '17

September 29-30, 2017
Indiana University, Bloomington
Department of Information and Library Science
1320 East 10th Street, LI001

Schedule

Thursday, September 28

6:30- Start the conversation: informal dinner at Lennie's, 1795 E. 10th Street

Friday, September 29

- 8:40 Gather in Lobby of Biddle Hotel, Indiana Memorial Union
Walk to Lilly Library, 1200 E 7th St, Bloomington
- 8:50 Welcome by Raj Acharya, Dean of the School of Informatics, Computing, and Engineering
- 9:00 Tour of Lilly Library led by Joel Silver, Director
- 10:00 Walk to Geology Building
- 10:15 Tour of Paleontology Collection led by Gary Motz, Project Coordinator Center for Biological Research Collections
- 11:15 Walk to ILS
- 11:30-12:30 Plenary Session by Maurizio Ferrari
- 12:30-2:30 Lunch
- 2:30-3:30 Martin Nord & D. Grant Campbell, University of Western Ontario
"The Materiality of Documents and the Genocidal Continuum"
Frances Vitali, University of New Mexico & Brian O'Connor, University of North Texas
"Indeterminacy and Communication Models in Cultural Contexts"
Cenxi Wang, Nanjing University
"Re-recording George Herbert Mead: Archival Thinking in Knowledge Study"
Lynnsey Weissenberger, Irish Traditional Music Archives
"Data, Consent, and the Document"
- 3:30-3:45 Break
- 3:45-4:30 Shawn Martin, Indiana University, Bloomington
"Science Serving Industry: Documentary Authority and Industrial Influence in 19th Century American Chemistry"
Patrick McLeod and Richard L. Anderson, Richard L. University of North Texas
"Cognitive Authoritarians: The Toxic Marriage and Persuasive Peril of Information-Seeking Exploits and Social Media in the Digital Age"
Bhuva Narayan, University of Technology Sydney
"206 Bones of Gray: A Documentalist Perspective on X-Rays"
- 4:30-5:00 Laurie Bonnici, University of Alabama
"Finding Quality in an S-town of Documents"
Robert Montoya, Indiana University, Bloomington
"On the Necessary Contingency of the Document in Relation to Systems"
- 5:00-6:30 Enjoy Bloomington
- 6:30- Dinner and more conversations at Quaff On!, 116 N Grant St, Bloomington, IN 47408

Saturday, September 30

- 8:30 Coffee and sweet rolls at Department of Information and Library Science
- 9:00-10:00 Michael Buckland, University of California, Berkeley
“Before the Angelope: Robert Pagès’ Gorilla as Autodocument”
Timothy, Gorichanz, Drexel University
“Self-portraiture as Self-documentation”
Kiersten Latham, Kent State University
“A Croatian Odyssey—Exploring Ivo Maroević’s Document Ideas”
Andreas Vårheim, Roswitha Skare & Geir Grenersen, University of Tromsø
“Museums Between Digitization and the Public Sphere”
- 10:00-10:45 Richard L. Anderson & Brian O’Connor, University of North Texas
“Synthetic Frames”
Ronald Day, Indiana University, Bloomington
“The Documentary Paradigm”
Roswitha Skare, University of Tromsø
“Digital Film Preservation: The Search for the Original”
- 10:45-11:00 Break
- 11:00-11:30 Jodi L. Kearns & Jon Endres, University of Akron
“The Henonville Wire Spool: The Story of a Lost Document”
Shellie Smith, Kent State University
“Voynich Manuscript”
- 11:30-1:15 Lunch at ILS catered by Butch’s
- 1:15-2:00 Carrie Boettcher, Emporia State University
“Storm-Spotting”
Joacim Hansson, Linnaeus University
“Catching the Chi—Tai Chi Chuan as Embodied Documentation”
Sabine Roux, Montpellier University
“On the Borders of the Document: Trip to Turakie”
- 2:00-2:45 Catherine Arnott Smith, University of Wisconsin-Madison
“Deconstructing the VISA: Academic Accommodations, Documentation, and Self-disclosure”
Geir Grenersen, University of Tromsø
“The Sámi Intellectuals and Their Use of Libraries”
Jodi L. Kearns, University of Akron & Brian O’Connor, University of North Texas
“B*d P*ct*r*s”
- 2:45-3:00 Break
- 3:00-4:00 Yongsheng Chen & Huanning Su, Sun Yat-Sen University
“Research on the Meanings and Problems of Digital Preservation for Historical Documents in China”
Ramon Diab, University of Western Ontario
“A Critique of Computational Science: Big Data and Social Reality”
Seth Erickson, University of California, Los Angeles
“The Character Within and Without the Document”
Tomasz Umerle, Institute of Literary Research of the Polish Academy of Sciences
“New Perspectives for Documentation of Culture in Poland. Building an Interdisciplinary Documentation Cooperation”
- 4:00-5:00 DOCAM business meeting, everyone invited to attend
- 6:00- Dinner and more conversation at Ron Day’s house, 1407 E Elliston Drive, Bloomington IN 47401

Sunday, October 1

- 10:30- Continue the conversation: brunch at the Tudor Room in the IMU